

Cher takes in art scene before being honored at amfAR gala

By Stephanie Smith

April 12, 2015 | 12:05am

Cher
Photo: Getty

Cher took in Brazil's art scene before being honored at the amfAR Inspiration Gala in São Paulo Friday night.

Spies spotted her at the SP-Arte fair, the largest in South America.

One said the "Believe" singer was eyeing a work by sculptor Anish Kapoor from Lisson Gallery.

Cher missed out on one piece she liked.

She tweeted, "Brazil is lovely!! Went to art show last nite & Fell in love with MAGIC GOLDEN Art piece by 85 yr Old Woman"

Cher ✓
@cher

Follow

Brazil is lovely !!
Went to art show last nite & Fell in love with MAGIC GOLDEN Art piece by 85 yr Old Woman 🍷
IT WAS SOLD 💔
HAD FUN ANYWAY

9:07 PM - 10 Apr 2015

448 RETWEETS 1,051 FAVORITES

↩
↻
★